VOLUME 16: NUMBER 8

SENIOR FRIENDSHIP CENTERS and BROTHER WILLIAM GEENAN

(The following is excerpted from a front-page story, with pictures, in a Sunday edition of the SARASOTA HERALD TRIBUNE. The story was written by Dorothy Stockbridge.)

Brother William Geenan, a man whose vision created a solid gold network of 'people helping people', is resigning as executive director of The Senior Friendship Centers. He came to this decision so that he can concentrate on future planning and development.

Senior Friendship Centers (SFC) had become the base for bringing in available state and federal resources to Sarasota's elderly. Those sources are capped now, Geenan says, while the demand for services continues to rise, especially among persons over 80. He continues: "Any expansion now has to come from local initiative. I want to see our programs and services made available to everyone in this country who needs them."

By shedding the daily management of (five) Centers, Geenan will have more time to help people in other areas organize similar programs. The Friendship Centers, particularly the health service operated by retired volunteer doctors and nurses, have become models for the country.

Geenan sees his role as educator. "Most people do not understand the problems of the elderly until they become old. They believe if there's no economic need, there's no need at all," he said.

Brother William was visiting Sarasota ten years ago when he met two elderly people: a friend of his father's, confined to a hospital, and another man who approached him while he was parked near the airport reading a map. Both expressed their loneliness and isolation. These separated instances weighed heavily on Geenan who had until then been involved in the education of youth.

Shortly afterward he approached his superiors and made a plea to do something about the needs of our elderly. He was told to go ahead. "What should I do?" he asked. "You made the plea," he was told, "You figure out what to do." The result has been a life-long commitment.

"I see people who need an advocate in many situations," he explains. "Many of us, including myself, can be that advocate even if it only means stopping and listening. Sometimes we can react in a positive way. Often the greatest need of our older residents is to be heard."

So Brother Geenan returned to Sarasota on September 1, 1973 with $79 and a typewriter. "We just opened," he recalls. "Holy Cross Brothers carry on programs of community commitment. We're supposed to be trail blazers and do tasks that other people find difficult or impossible." When asked about his long range plans he admitted, "In the beginning I was lucky to know what I was doing that day."

The first center was an old house provided by St. Martha's Church. It became a gathering place for the elderly who otherwise would have stayed in their downtown apartments. Soon Geenan had volunteers playing music, leading card games, and teaching classes. Those who came revealed other needs: transportation, assistance in housekeeping, shopping, etc. - which needs SFC began meeting.

Over the years Geenan has seen people who came first to volunteer now needing the services themselves.

SFC opened its Health Service in 1978 in response to an estimated 6,000 Sarasotans who were not receiving medical attention, usually because of finances. A group of retired physician's was gathered. The doctors were granted limited licensure to practice medicine as volunteers. The Health Service has recorded nearly eleven thousand patient visits.

The County School System is involved in the Candlelight Dining program by opening six schools as dining sites and providing school buses to transport the 600 who congregate nightly for the hot dinners. In addition about 100 per night have the meals delivered to them when they are unable to get out.

Brother Geenan is looking forward to the time - in the near future - when Senior Friendship Centers will open their doors to include the youth in this area. "The experiences shared then," he explained, "will give our residents an opportunity to see the good and positive sides of our younger generation. And it will give the younger people a quiet lesson on how to age with grace and dignity."

FROM ANDRE HOUSE, CHICAGO

Brother Charles Pinto sends some of the recent happenings:

#Brother Donald Kuchenmeister has completed a two-year program in Spanish Language and Culture as part of his preparation for work at Hogar San Jose, an orphanage near Santiago, Chile, operated by Holy Cross Priest, Joseph Dougherty.

#Andre House was the host for a day of recollection for the Archdiocesan CCD Staff, and on another occasion, for the local cluster meeting of priests and religious in the neighborhood.

These groups totaled more than fifty people.

#Brother Robert Fillmore gives retreats and acts as retreat consultant for some of the parishes and schools in the neighborhood.

#Brother Kenneth Haders continues to give guest talks at local meetings of the Illinois Right To Life Commission.

#Brother Charles Pinto was a guest (along with Brother Thomas Corcoran) at a recent meeting of the Indiana Province Committee on Secondary Schools.

CLEAR FREEZE

Brother William Mewes continues his work as State Coordinator of the Indiana Nuclear Weapons Freeze Campaign. On April 10 he spoke at a "Stop The Arms Race" rally in Ellenberger Park preceding The Peace Coalition's march to the Avionics Center, where the guidance system for the sea launched version of the Cruise missile is built.

A lengthy article, with pictures, appeared in the April 10 Indianapolis STAR, covering the Peace March. One paragraph quoted some of Brother William's remarks standing on a picnic table to address the crowd."

Rather lengthy essays written by Bill, speaking to misconceptions of the Nuclear Freeze have appeared in the Indianapolis STAR and the CRITERION (Archdiocesan weekly newspaper). He was even paid for his article in the STAR - so his "starving artist journalistic career" is off and running.

FROM HOLY FAMILY, ASHLAND, KY

Brothers Walter Davenport, James Spooner, and Donald Allen serve the high school of this parish. Donald sends us some of the recent happenings:

#All of us drove to Washington, D.C., for the NCEA Convention during Easter week. It was a pleasant break. We stayed with the Brothers at Bp. McNamara in Forestville and they gave us a warm welcome, showing us much of the city. Some of the Eastern Province Brothers gave talks and presentations at the Convention. We came back through the mountains of Virginia and West Virginia and it was a bit rough with rain and dense fog at the higher altitudes.

#Father Barrosse came in for a visit on Sunday, May 1, landing on the mountain top (flattened) airport at Huntington, W.V., about ten miles from us.

#Walter is getting things lined up for next year (contracts, budgets, etc.). Jim is whittling away at the neglect in the science department and will have it all in first class order by fall. Don is just finishing the senior marriage course, the sacramental course for juniors, and the Old Testament with the sophomores.

#On June 5 the three of us will leave for a six-day retreat at Gethsemani. Jim and Don will be attending summer school in Huntington(W.V.) and Loyola (Chicago), respectively. Walter will remain in Ashland to catch up with some of the work that did not receive sufficient attention during the school year.

#If you want to treat yourself to beautiful spring sights, come to Ashland. I don't believe the tropics could rival the beauty around here right now.

SOLITUDE OF ST. JOSEPH

The Solitude of St. Joseph will be open throughout the summer for private or individually directed retreats of three, six, or eight days. Six or eight-day retreats usually begin on Sunday, ending the following Saturday or Monday. At various times the following will be available for individually directed retreats: Judith Anne Beattie, C.S.C., Frank Englert, C.S.C., and Tom Maddix, C.S.C.. For additional information please contact The Solitude - at Box 164, Notre Dame - or 1-(219)-239-5655.

At the beginning of June, Jim Weston, C.S.C.(S-W), is leaving to work in California before starting a program in theology and spirituality at the University of Seattle. Frank Englert, C.S.C., will join The Solitude community, continuing his teaching at Holy Cross Junior College, but available on a limited basis for directed retreats and spiritual direction.

Mrs. Shirley Rasmussen, head nurse at Dujarie House, has requested space in this issue for a personal message. (Space is happily granted).

"I am sending out a plea to all the Brothers who cook. Set a day aside and come cook one of your special meals for the Brothers at Dujarie House. On many occasions, Brothers Robert Siegel, Paul Kelly, Ivan Dolan, and Bernard Platte volunteered to give us a special meal. The Brothers loved their cooking but mostly loved their company. It made it a very special day.

I have heard that some of you even won prizes for your special dishes. Come share your secret recipes with us. Call Brother Pedro and set a date-soon."

BROTHER CAMILLUS KIRSCH (INDIANAPOLIS)

(Ed. note. Brother Camillus has recently been nominated for "State Employee of the Month". The following article from CENTRAL SCENE, publication of Central State Hospital in Indianapolis gives details. We add our own congratulations to Camillus.)

William Kirsch has been nominated for State Employee of the Month for Interchange under the category of Professional. This group includes attorneys, social workers, accountants, teachers, scientists and administrative assistants. Publication date for their selection is March 10th.

Bill has dedicated his life to the service of humanity and especially to the problems of children and the mentally ill. Bill graduated from the University of Notre Dame and received his Masters in Social Work from the University of Chicago. He spent 20 years as a social worker helping boys at the Gibault School for Boys in Terre Haute.

Bill came to Central State Hospital on January 30, 1972 as a social worker. His extensive knowledge of all agencies, public and private, has allowed him to efficiently use services that are available in the community for hospital patients. Bill is very thorough and never lets the sun set on an unfinished job, frequently working extra time and never asking for additional compensation. Bill always has time for patients, even after they have been discharged. His door is always open for counseling. He is infinitely patient and the epitome of courtesy and consideration. He is loved and respected by all and serves as a tower of strength to patients, relatives and co-workers.

Bill Kirsch cheerfully maintains the highest level of performance and quality workmanship, frequently under difficult conditions and with an already heavy work load. He was the 1980 Employee of the Year at Central State Hospital and continues to show outstanding leadership and sets an example for all to follow.

HOLY CROSS, RIVER GROVE

Annual blood drive was held on April 15. More than 150 students and half the faculty (including six Brothers) gave to a worthy cause. Last year the Red Cross presented a plaque to the school in recognition of more than 1000 pints of blood donated since the drive started in 1970.

Brother Raymond Dufresne was a member of the North Central Association team which recently reviewed the credentials of Holy Cross High School in Wilmette. (Ray was a member of the library review.) He noted that Holy Cross tuition at Loyola next year will be $1,200. Holy Cross tuition will be $1,000.

Brother Quentin Hegarty, celebrating 50 years of vows, travelled with Brother Dunstan Bowles (S-W) to Austin, Texas, for the celebration with the Holy Cross West jubilarians on April 30. Brother Quentin had been staying with his ailing mother in Northbrook.

Brother Raymond Dufresne and Thaddeus Moller organized the local celebration for Brothers Quentin (50 years), Charles Drevon, the local Director (25 years), and Donald Fleischhacker (25 years). More than 150 guests had a grand time at the gala affair.

Brother Simon Murren, a cousin of Brother Tony Houser was a recent visitor. Accompanying Simon was one of Anthony's sisters, a Sister of the Holy Cross from St. Joseph (ND). Tony has another Holy Cross Sister who visited him from Peoria last winter time, along with another brother who is a Holy Cross priest. In short, there are five HOUSERS in Holy Cross. They have dedicated many fruitful years to the Church at home and abroad.

Brother Thomas Corcoran completed his one year stint as Chairman for the Council of Principals. This Council is composed of sixteen high schools and meets four times each year. Tom attends the monthly meetings at the downtown Archdiocesan office and brings back information to the area Council II. The Council system is very well organized and an important means whereby the principals communicate with each other on a personal basis... Brother Charles Pinto, Principal at Holy Trinity, has been recently appointed a member of the advisory committee reporting directly to the Cardinal on the high school level... Brother Charles Krupp, Director of Development at Holy Trinity, is Chairman of the Financial Committee for the Archdiocesan School Board.

FROM LINCOLNWAY, SOUTH BEND

#Congratulations to Brother Joseph Barry, a member of the 1983 Graduation Class at Notre Dame. Joe received a Bachelor of Arts in Theology degree. (Family and friends of Joe gathered at Lincolnway for a reception - supper on Saturday, May 14)... Cardinal Joseph Bernardin shared the graduation platform as the main speaker and received an honorary degree at the May 15 ceremony.

#Brothers Robert Siegel, Lawrence Unfried, and Phil Smith were guests for Mass and the "last-Sunday-of-the-month-brunch" at Dujarie House in April.

#Brother Joe Barry was among the ND students whose art work was displayed at an exhibition at the Snite Museum during May. Joe's "FABRIC" was part of the work he created during the last two semesters of art class.

#And just across the highway, in the hallway of the vine-covered main building of Holy Cross Junior College, are exhibited the final projects of Robert Siegel and Modesto Valle, students of Brother John Kuhn's studio class in calligraphy.

FROM HOLY TRINITY, CHICAGO

#The two jubilarians, Brother Sigismund, 50 years, and Brother Thomas Cunningham, 25 years, were honored on May 7 with Mass at 5:30, a social hour, and dinner. Invited were Holy Cross religious of the Chicago area, family and friends of the Jubilarians. Mass and the celebration were at the Noble Street residence which, in preparation for the event, has had a bit of face-lifting.

#For the first time in several years, Holy Trinity's auditorium was the setting for a musical/comedy. It was written and directed by Mr. Barry Bernstein, teacher of junior English at Holy Trinity. The production was the result of combined efforts of six faculty members and fifty students from Holy Trinity and Josephinum. Performances were May 13 and 14.

#Brother John Tryon, Campus Minister, and Father Bill Matthews, Chaplain, accompanied twelve students to St. Francis Academy in Joliet, Illinois, on April 28, where they took part in a dialogue on "Ministry in the Hispanic Community." Students are now being recruited for the Fifth Annual Black Catholic Youth Leadership Conference to be held at Williams Bay, Wisconsin, June 24-26.

#The monthly faculty prayer/sharing sessions continue to provide the staff with an opportunity to gather at the homes of various faculty members to support each other through scripture readings, spontaneous prayer, and hymns. The April session was held at Joseph House on the 30th.

#In August, Holy Trinity is initiating a Cooperative Diversified Work-Training Program that is in full accord with the requirements of the State of Illinois. The program will accommodate forty students; fifteen will be from Holy Family and Josephinum. The work/study program, for seniors only, involves one daily class period and early-afternoon release for part-time work. The employers will come from the list of those who are already hiring Holy Trinity students through Holy

Trinity's Student Employment Service; others are being recruited.

#The Catholic Charities of Chicago held its Conference on Unemployment and Job Skills at Holy Trinity on Saturday, April 16. Students who are members of the Christian Service Program assisted as guides, hosts, and registrars.

#Brother John Tryon has been invited to be a member of the Board of Directors of Association House, a settlement house that provides extended social services to the needy of Chicago.

HOLY CROSS HISTORY CONFERENCES CONTINUE

The third annual Conference on the History of the Congregations of Holy Cross in the U.S.A. will be held at St. Edward's University in Austin, Texas, March 22-24, 1984. Efforts will be made to provide low-cost accommodations at Holy Cross houses in Austin for religious coming from out of town.

Anyone wishing to make a presentation at the conference should send a one-page description of what he/she proposes to offer to Rev. James Connelly, C.S.C., P.O. Box 568, Notre Dame, IN 46556. The program Committee for the 1984 conference will give preference, other things being equal, to presentations on the history of Holy Cross in the southern and western states. The deadline for receiving proposals is September 1, 1983.

BROTHER RICHARD KEARNEY

Brother Philip Armstrong announced this month that Brother Richard will be returning from excommunication on August 1 of this year. Richard has been involved in social work at St. Vincent's in San Rafael, California, for the past three years. He expresses his gratitude for the support he has received from the members of the province during this time of discernment.

DOUJARIE HOUSE

first four months of the year have several "guest patients" in the house early any given time. But the last of April brought the "grand exodus" all of our visitors went home "at home". On Monday, Brother Kieran Ryan returned to Bronson Hall, Wednesday witnessed Brother Andrew Steffes' return to the house; on Friday Brother Otto Hayden went to Columba, and on Saturday Brother Theodore Kapes returned also to Columba. So far as we've heard all are doing well.

Brother James Kell made the South-West District Visit for five days starting on Monday, April 11. His visit was most successful.

On April 11 we enjoyed our first Dog Show, arranged by Mr. Ron Ori, head chef. At a dozen dogs, conspicuous by their outstanding deportment, entertained members of the house, staff, and anyone who happened by. The big dogs: a large poodle, a golden retriever, and Dobermans' were the hit of the show. The small, cuddly dogs were also well liked.

On April 26, Brother Richard Weber began repainting of the corridors. The work completed thus far (May 4) is very attractive.

Brother's aide, Mrs Helen Pijut has joined the staff for orientation during the first two weeks of May.

At least two new art pieces adorn our corridor walls. A campus scene (ND) was painted recently - the work of Brother James Weston (S-W). And another large picture hook wall hanging, depicting a sad-eyed Bassett hound named Ralph was executed and donated by Mrs. Elizabeth Haering of the Green Valley Convalescent Center in New Albany, Indiana.

Brothers John Paige (E) and Thomas Menta (E) visited us (separately) during April, while Brother Edward Boyer, Eastern Personnel Director, visited Brothers Matthew Gara and John Shea several times during his stay in the area in early April.

FROM GHANA

Following is an excerpt of a letter from the Brothers in Ghana to Brother Philip Armstrong - which letter arrived on April 19.

"We are still unwinding after the big affair on 19th, March. We had a very fine time. Fr. Bob set up his usual excellent liturgy and we managed to find enough food to feed everyone-no minor task I assure you. Vincent was even able to find some beer for the guests. Joe Annan was very pleased with the way things went and that is most important.

"The situation in Ghana continues to worsen. On top of everything else, we are now faced with a very serious dry spell. There has been no significant rain for several months. Many rivers and streams that villagers depend on for water have gone totally dry. Even the Denu is dry. The water level of the Volta is dangerously low and threatens the functioning of the Volta Dam. Many factories have closed down because they depend on water. The Koforddua/Nsawam area has been particularly hard hit. Schools were able to stay open only 3 weeks second term because of the lack of water. And all over the country pumping systems are breaking down. We have had water at St. John's only once since Christmas. If, we are told, the water level of the Volta continues to go down we may be without electricity. I find as I reflect on what is happening that this is almost unbelievable. Except that it is happening. I find it a great mystery how people find food to eat and how the poor find money for food. Eggs now over 6 cedis each; orange, small size 3 cedis, etc..."

BITS and PIECES from HERE and THERE

The CRITERION, Indianapolis Archdiocesan paper, has announced the closing of the century-old St. Francis de Sales Church on the east side of the city. The parish was divided among the four surrounding parishes. Brother Douglas Roach has been Administrator of the parish since last summer.

Brother Romuald Sahn (S-W) died of lymphoma in Hayward, California on April 29. He was seventy years old and a native of Indianapolis. Many of his relatives attended the funeral at The Brothers' Center on May 6. Brother James Weston (S-W) gave the homily.

Our prayers are requested for others recently deceased: Mrs. Maud Lavelle, mother of Brother Robert Lavelle, died on April 26. Joseph Buckley, brother of Brother Alexander Buckley, died the previous week in Pennsylvania.

The Brothers at Dujarie House are grateful to Brother Charles Hill at Boysville and his "Awardsville" program for a new set of name plates for the House Directory.

Brother Eduardo Michalik is learning the hard way in Israel. The supermarket sign indicated open from "7 to 9". He was puzzled as he stood at the electronically operated door at eight o'clock and it didn't open. So he waited until an employee came out and slipped in before the door closed. When security guards escorted him back out he remembered one must read from right to left - so the store was really open from 9 until 7... Ed also sent us several interesting color photographs. Unfortunately, we are not able to reproduce them for your edification. One of them showed former President Jimmy Carter during his recent visit in the area.

The annual Province celebration of jubilees is scheduled for May 21 - a date too late for a story in The Newsnotes. The liturgy is scheduled for 4 p.m. (EST) at the Brothers' Center. It will be followed by a reception and dinner. In this Province Brothers Bonaventure and Lewis Bertrand are celebrating 60 years of vows; Brothers Quentin Hegarty, Adelbert Mrowca, and Sigismund Danielski mark golden jubilees; ten men celebrate their 40th and sixteen mark 25 years in vows - a total of 31 men and 1070 years!

EDITOR'S COLUMN

This is the final edition of the Midwest Newsnotes until next fall. It is the proper time to express my thanks to those of you who have sent us material once, twice, or half a dozen times during the last year. It is also time to express my appreciation to Mrs. Joan Loranger who has taken over more and more of the mechanics of producing the last several issues. From deciphering my hand-written copy to getting it on the word processor, from taking it to the copy center at ND to folding, stuffing, and mailing - I am grateful for her services. And I would be remiss to neglect the essential help of Brother Richard Johnson, who is master of the word processor and solves all sorts of problems that continually bedevil us.

I received a very nice letter from Brother Richard Fischenich today. Rich rushes around the land touched by the Pacific Ocean, trying to land students for the University of Portland. He says near the close: "I particularly like the breadth of the newsletter. Due to my present work and location I see very little of our Midwest community. As a result of my travels I am unable to attend our province forums. So what I find in the newsletter is important to me."

Obviously, not all of us are so isolated from most of the "rest of the Province" as Richard is. Yet a check of the Directory will probably reveal there are more than most of us thought. That is why I have not neglected the opportunity, when it arises, to go into some detail about the works and surroundings of Brothers, such as Barry Lambour, in the April issue and William Geenan in the present issue. And incidental reports are always carried somewhere - like in "Bits and Pieces..."

I would like to add a further word on the account in this issue of the work of Brother William Geenan. I believe that Bill's work deserves the admiration of, and is an inspiration to, all of us. The material came to me anonymously -- perhaps from Brother Robert Woodward who has been working in the same area with William for several years now. Robert was never known to draw attention to himself so I am not at all acquainted with his work. Accountants rarely lead glamorous lives. (Which is not to imply that mention on these pages bestows glamour.) But I would like to say once again that the work of each of you is important to all of us. Most of us are certainly interested in your work, whatever it is, and especially if it seems unglamorous. So, once again, I ask you to send us some information next year. Or send us information about another Brother whose work may not be generally known to most of us. Often we cannot even guess what one person's "story" may mean to someone else.

Thanks to all of you who have offered encouragement.

(Brother Pedro Haering, C.S.C., Editor)

ISLI This summer:

A facilitators Training Program of the International Student Leadership Institute is scheduled for Wednesday, July 6 to Saturday, July 9 at Ursuline College, Pepper Pike, Ohio.

This is a training workshop for students and would qualify an individual to be a facilitator at any ISLI program. The cost of $75.00 includes all meals, dorm housing, use of pool, gym and tennis courts.

I would recommend this especially for newly elected student council and class officers.

Registration deadline is June 25. For further information contact Brother Robert Siegel at 1114 Lincolnway (South Bend) or Fr. Tom Chambers, c/o Gilmour Academy.

FROM NARINDA, BANGLADESH

Brother John Rozario, District Superior in Bangladesh, wrote the following letter to Brother Philip Armstrong on April 11.

"Last night about 5:30 we had rain and a hailstorm. It did extensive damage to the trade school roof, which is asbestos. The hailstones were almost as big as baseballs. I don't remember having seen them so big and in so large quantity. After the storm, Brother Jerome went to the shop and returned with a sad face. He said it was as if someone had sprayed it with a machine gun. Of course the electricity went out. This morning after breakfast I went to look. Through the window I could see the roof which looks like a shower head full of holes. I doubt that they can be repaired; the roof will have to be replaced.

"The machine shop, fitting shop, carpenter shop, and the big store room have asbestos roof. The electricity and radio shop and the office have concrete roof.

"Brother Robert and others are going to check how extensive is the damage and what to do next. It will be many sq. ft. of roofing to be replaced.

"As I get more news I will keep you posted."

FROM HOLY CROSS NOTITATE, WATERFORD

#The English-speaking novices of the Sisters of Holy Cross (Canada) were guests of the Waterford novitiate community in mid-April. During that time, our men novices from Waterford and women novices from Montreal participated in a three-day workshop on the topic of Celibacy and Sexuality, conducted by Sister Suzanne Breckel, RSM, of the Albany Diocese Consultation Center. The Holy Cross men and women novices found this collaborative venture to be a valuable experience in their program of growth and discernment toward religious life in Holy Cross.

#Members of the Waterford community participated in the memorial liturgy for recently deceased Brother Ellis Greene, and at the Jubilee Celebrations for the Eastern Brothers...both events were held at Valatie.

#John Gleason (EB) attended a workshop on sexuality at the Weber Center in Michigan recently, and took the opportunity during his travels to visit community members at Boysville (Clinton, MI), Hamilton, Ontario, and Rochester, NY.

#John Paige (EB) conducted a workshop for Catholic School Administrators of the Albany, Ogdensburg, and Syracuse Dioceses on the topic of "Holistic Education and Curriculum Development." He addressed the topic "A Different Look at Governance: School Boards" for a similar gathering of school administrators from the Rochester and Buffalo Dioceses.

#Joel Giallanza (SWB) was an invited guest of the South-West Province for a conference on vocations held in Austin, TX in April.

#John Phalen (EP) is becoming actively involved in the Spanish Apostolate in the Albany Diocese, regularly assisting with Spanish-language liturgies in Albany and Amsterdam. John Paige and John Phalen made formation visits in Indiana during April at Lincolnway Candidate House and Moreau Seminary respectively - and both attended the Indiana Province ordination ceremonies at Notre Dame.
