Reflection on the Life of Brother Joseph Ballard

By Brother John McMuldren

Bertile, James, Leo, Bernard and all the Ballards and friends: Welcome! I'm so glad you are here. Thank you for coming from Louisville and beyond. Earl would be so proud, and thank you for sharing your brother Earl's life with us. He was our brother in Holy Cross, so we share your – loss – in his passing, and we share your – joy – in his new life.

There is an old saying: “No one is ever lost, – IF – you know where they are.” Joseph is not lost – Joseph was a kind and loving man who lived his life for others – we know where Joseph is, – Joseph is in Heaven.

It's amazing how Joseph's entire life from the very first day – to the last, has always been under the seal of Holy Cross.

Earl Ballard was born on Nov. 22, 1934 in – Holy Cross, Kentucky. He was baptized in – Holy Cross Church. He lived with his family in – Holy Cross, Kentucky until – at the age of 19, when he joined the Brothers of Holy Cross in 1954. And today, – he will rest in peace – in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Joe was the 10th of 12 children (7 boys and 5 girls). His earliest memories were of growing up on a farm – in rural Kentucky. It was a much simpler time then: deep family roots, and close to the Church. He was very very – close to family – close to nature – and close to the Church.

Joseph was very proud of his “Southern Roots” from “Kentucky” And – He was always – “A southern gentleman”: polite, respectful with a quiet unassuming dignity – and a private devotion to St. Joseph and St. Andre. – Whenever I called, or visited Joe in his illness, he would always say. “Thank you for calling.” Or “Thank you for stopping by.”

He had an incredible free spirit of adventure, and he was always on the move. He went solo to counsel at an Air Force Base there. He was there when the Berlin wall came down, and took a piece of it home.

He liked family reunions, community gatherings and socials at Columba Hall. He enjoyed singing, and playing country music on his guitar – for friends.

As a Brother he lived his vows humbly and quietly through good example. I was a junior at Hoban High School when Joe came there to teach for the first time in 1958. He was 24 years old, and by his good example – like the other Brothers at Hoban High – I was led to become a Brother of Holy Cross.

Joe was always modest about any of his achievements, even though, throughout his life, he was a good teacher, a concerned counselor and an able principal.

Brother Joseph was humble and kind – and enjoyed the simple life. He preferred service to others, – more than being served.

He died, early in the morning – on the Feast of the Epiphany: Epiphany! (When the Wisemen followed the star at night – that led them to – Jesus) I remembered a painting – Joe made several years ago, and I asked him to tell me about it. He said “It is Coming out of the dark of night – into a bright new day – into the Light of Christ.”

How appropriate he should enter eternal life early on the morning of the EPIPHANY, as the Wisemen came out of the Dark of night and found the light of Christ.

Last month I visited Brother Joseph in Memorial Hospital and told him – he should eat his lunch, so he could get better, and come home. He said he wasn't interested in going home. He said, "I'd rather go to my reward"

... Then – he said he saw on the news that a famous man had died recently, and his wife gave the Eulogy, ... and she said... that just before her husband died – he sat up in bed and said, ... (then Joe sat up to demonstrate – and said expressively,) "Wow, Wow, Wow". He said that made him feel good; it gave him hope and encouragement.

Early last Sunday morning when Bertile called me to tell me that her brother Earl had died, I remembered Brother Joseph, in his hospital bed, sitting up to demonstrate (Steve Jobs last three words.) – and say expressively: Wow, Wow, Wow! And it made me – feel good.

Carl's Fox News Video

Channel 4, Fox News in Dallas, interviewed Carl and his cousin, Jane Idzy, January 13. Fox News broadcast the interview on the 5:30 pm news here in Dallas. The interview can be viewed on the following website: www.myfoxdfw.com. *Check it out.

Carl will be discharged from Medical City Hospital next Wednesday, Jan 18th. He is not sure yet where he will be going. I met with the kidney transplant social worker today to start working on some plans. He may go to a nursing home, if he meets the Medicare regulations for eligibility. I am hoping this goes through...if not, he will be with his cousin in Dallas. However, she cannot drive for 2 weeks and he cannot drive for 3 weeks. He also may not be able to go up and down stairs.

I am glad to be here and help him coordinate everything. I am sure he will be on the Holy Cross Associates conference call on Saturday.

Carl did talk about Brother Andre to the interviewer. He had a prayer service and asked Brother Andre to intercede for both he and Jane before they went up to the pre-opt area. He told the interviewer that Saint Brother St Andre's ministry was Healing. She was impressed.

Health Updates

Brothers,

I have some good news to share related to the requested prayers of Tuesday, Jan 10th.

Brother Carl Sternberg's kidney transplant appears to have been successful. After surgery, the doctor informed Brother Lew Brazil that all went well and that Carl's new kidney is functioning at top speed. As of last night Carl was in ICU for initial recovery, experienced some pain, but was alert and engaged in conversation with his sister and Lew. If all continues as expected Carl's level of care should be stepped down today.

Brother Charles McBride reports he is feeling better, and that the doctors are looking at discharging him to Dujarie House on Friday, January 13, for continued care. Charlie continues to evaluate his option regarding the needed heart repairs, and plans to seek a second opinion next week.

Thank you for your prayers for these two members, and please continue to pray for their continued improved health.

Thank you.

Brother Chester Freel
