Archbishop Bruguès

Pays a Visit to the Campus of Holy Cross College

NOTRE DAME, IN (April 2, 2012) “I’m not here to inspect or write a report for the Pope!”

The Secretary of the Congregation for Catholic Education, Archbishop Jean-Louis Bruguès, paid a visit to the campus of Holy Cross College March 22. As the Dominican joked with students and professors, his real mission dealt more with listening than with speaking.

“We’re going to reverse the roles,” explained the Archbishop through translator and Holy Cross Professor Lori Crawford-Dixon. “You’re going to talk, I’m going to listen.”

Thanks for Prayers

On behalf of my family, thank you to all those who kept my sister Debbie in their thoughts and prayers. She's still in the hospital, but came through surgery without too many complications and is in good spirits.

Br. Christopher Torrijas

Prayers Requested

Please remember in your prayers the repose of the soul of my brother, Ronald L. Johnson. Ron died Tuesday afternoon, April 10th. He had been suffering for the past two years from Parkinson and Alzheimer diseases. His wife Carolyn passed away two years ago. He leaves two married daughters and one grandson who watched over him these last few years. Ron's last residence was in Smithfield, Virginia.
