Holy Cross Village Car Show Five Years Old

On Saturday, August 11 Holy Cross Village held their Fifth Annual Car Show. With great weather the number of entrants hit 33, just five off the record turnout in 2010. A blue 1947 Ford coupe owned by Jack and Cherry York took the first place with a red 1965 Chevrolet owned by Willie Weeks taking second. Again Linda De Hays of the Life Enrichment Staff organized the event. Money was raised at the bake sale for the American Cancer Society fundraiser. The hot dogs, watermelon and sweet corn were a hit with everyone.

Generations Coming Together

Many work in Unity Garden at Holy Cross College

By CHRIS J. DREYER, C.S.C.

In the spring of 2011, members from Holy Cross Village, Holy Cross College and the surrounding community pooled their resources to create the first intergenerational Unity Garden in Michiana.

Columba Hall Fire Alarms Sound Off

On Saturday evening, August 4, residents of Columba Hall were sitting on the second floor back porch overlooking the parking lot as the storm approached from the west at 55 mph. The sky was light in color from the heavy rain when at once we saw a flash of lighting and heard thunder at the same time. Our fire alarm went off for about the fourth time this year. As usual we went down to the front entrance to greet the firemen and attempted to identify the cause of the fire.

The fire box at the front door indicated it was a heat sensor in the attic. So they were off to the attic to determine what was up. After a lengthy search there was speculation as to what it might be. Since no one was trapped in the elevator, we did not realize that it was no longer working. Firemen left the house telling us that our heat sensors in the attic were no longer working and we could rest assured that the sprinkling system was in good shape to keep us safe for the night. They said they would be back the next day with the official word and make a second trip through the house.

Brothers were discovering a few things themselves. One TV blew up and the house phone began to flash its lights and make strange noises and a few computers were fried. So we all retired for the evening resting in the fact that the fire suppression system was still working. In the morning the official report “Columba Hall had been struck by lightning” was delivered in person. As far as I know no one had looked outside at the roof and saw the real proof.

Pictured is the cross on top of Columba Hall and the hole made by the lightning. Back on June 18, 2010 another strong storm hit Notre Dame taking out a number of trees and limbs at Columba Hall.

Administrative Center Alarm ‘Just Burnt Toast’

The Notre Dame Fire Department responded to an automatic fire alarm from the Holy Cross Administrative Center on State Road 933 shortly before 8:00 a.m. on Thursday, August 9. As it turned out the fire was nothing but burnt toast a staff member was making for breakfast. The toaster failed to pop up the toast and sent the staff outside to enjoy the cooler weather for about 10 minutes until the Notre Dame Fire Department turned off the alarm and gave an all clear signal for workers to return.
