Lilies

Whitened lilies have I seen
Amid the silent fields of green,
Like candles with their golden light
Divorcing darkness from the night.

Whitened lilies have I seen
Amid the silent fields of green,
Like vested armies in parade
The gladsome victors over shade.

Whitened lilies have I seen
Amid the silent fields of green,
Like rolling waves cresting white,
Undulating seas of emerald bright.

Holy Cross Maple Syrup Columba Hall, Notre Dame

In past months sugar maple trees on Notre Dame University campus have been tapped for syrup. We have a one-half gallon of the syrup which has been enjoyed on our breakfast pancakes.

“Fun Fact: It takes 40-50 gallons of sap to make 1 gallon of syrup!”

Ralph Pieniazkiewicz (Far Right) gathers maple syrup outside Columba Hall with Fr. Dan Goody (Cntr) and Ralph’s son Peter (Far Left). The harvested sap was taken to Bendix Woods to be turned into “Holy Cross Maple Syrup.” Ralph and the Corby Hall team have collected over 200 gallons of sap, having tapped ten trees.

Holy Cross Roads Writings for the Journey

Who's right?

It may be easy to take a position on an issue, especially if our mind and our feelings have been on the same path before. But we have probably seen in many court trials that we have watched on TV, in which witnesses have drawn conclusions from what they “have seen” even if they were not wearing glasses for seeing in a distance at the time. Maybe there were aspects of the scene that were not visible to these witnesses. On cross examination these witnesses had to admit that what they saw was from their point of view.

Is this a time for us to admit that we do not have God's eyes and cannot have access to the whole picture in all of its complexity? We make judgements based on previous knowledge and from our personal experience. When we begin our conversations with the words, “from my perspective” we open ourselves up to a dialog which might prove to be a learning experience for those who are participating. Between a perfect “right or wrong” stance there might be middle ground which acknowledges the complexities of the situation. This is the kind of dialog that can happen in Pope Francis' call for the church to experience synodality, which begins with a willingness to listen as well as share points of view. Could this also be a way of showing love of neighbor?

- Do you often think you have the only correct answer in a discussion?
- Is it hard to listen to people who do not agree with you?
- If you began a discussion with the words, “from my point of view,” would it help in discussing an issue?

O God, help me to be open to the Spirit being revealed through others.

Reflection
Sent in by Brother Thomas Maddix, C.S.C.

"Every time we choose courage,
we make everyone around us a little better and the world a little braver. And our world could stand to be a little kinder and braver."
- Brené Brown.

Easter Sunday April 17th, 2022

Easter, also called Pascha or Resurrection Sunday, is a festival and holiday celebrating the passion, death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus, as portrayed in the canonical Gospels. The Paschal Triduum is the period of three days that begins with the liturgy on the evening of Maundy Thursday, reaches its high point in the Easter Vigil, and closes with evening prayer on Easter Sunday.
